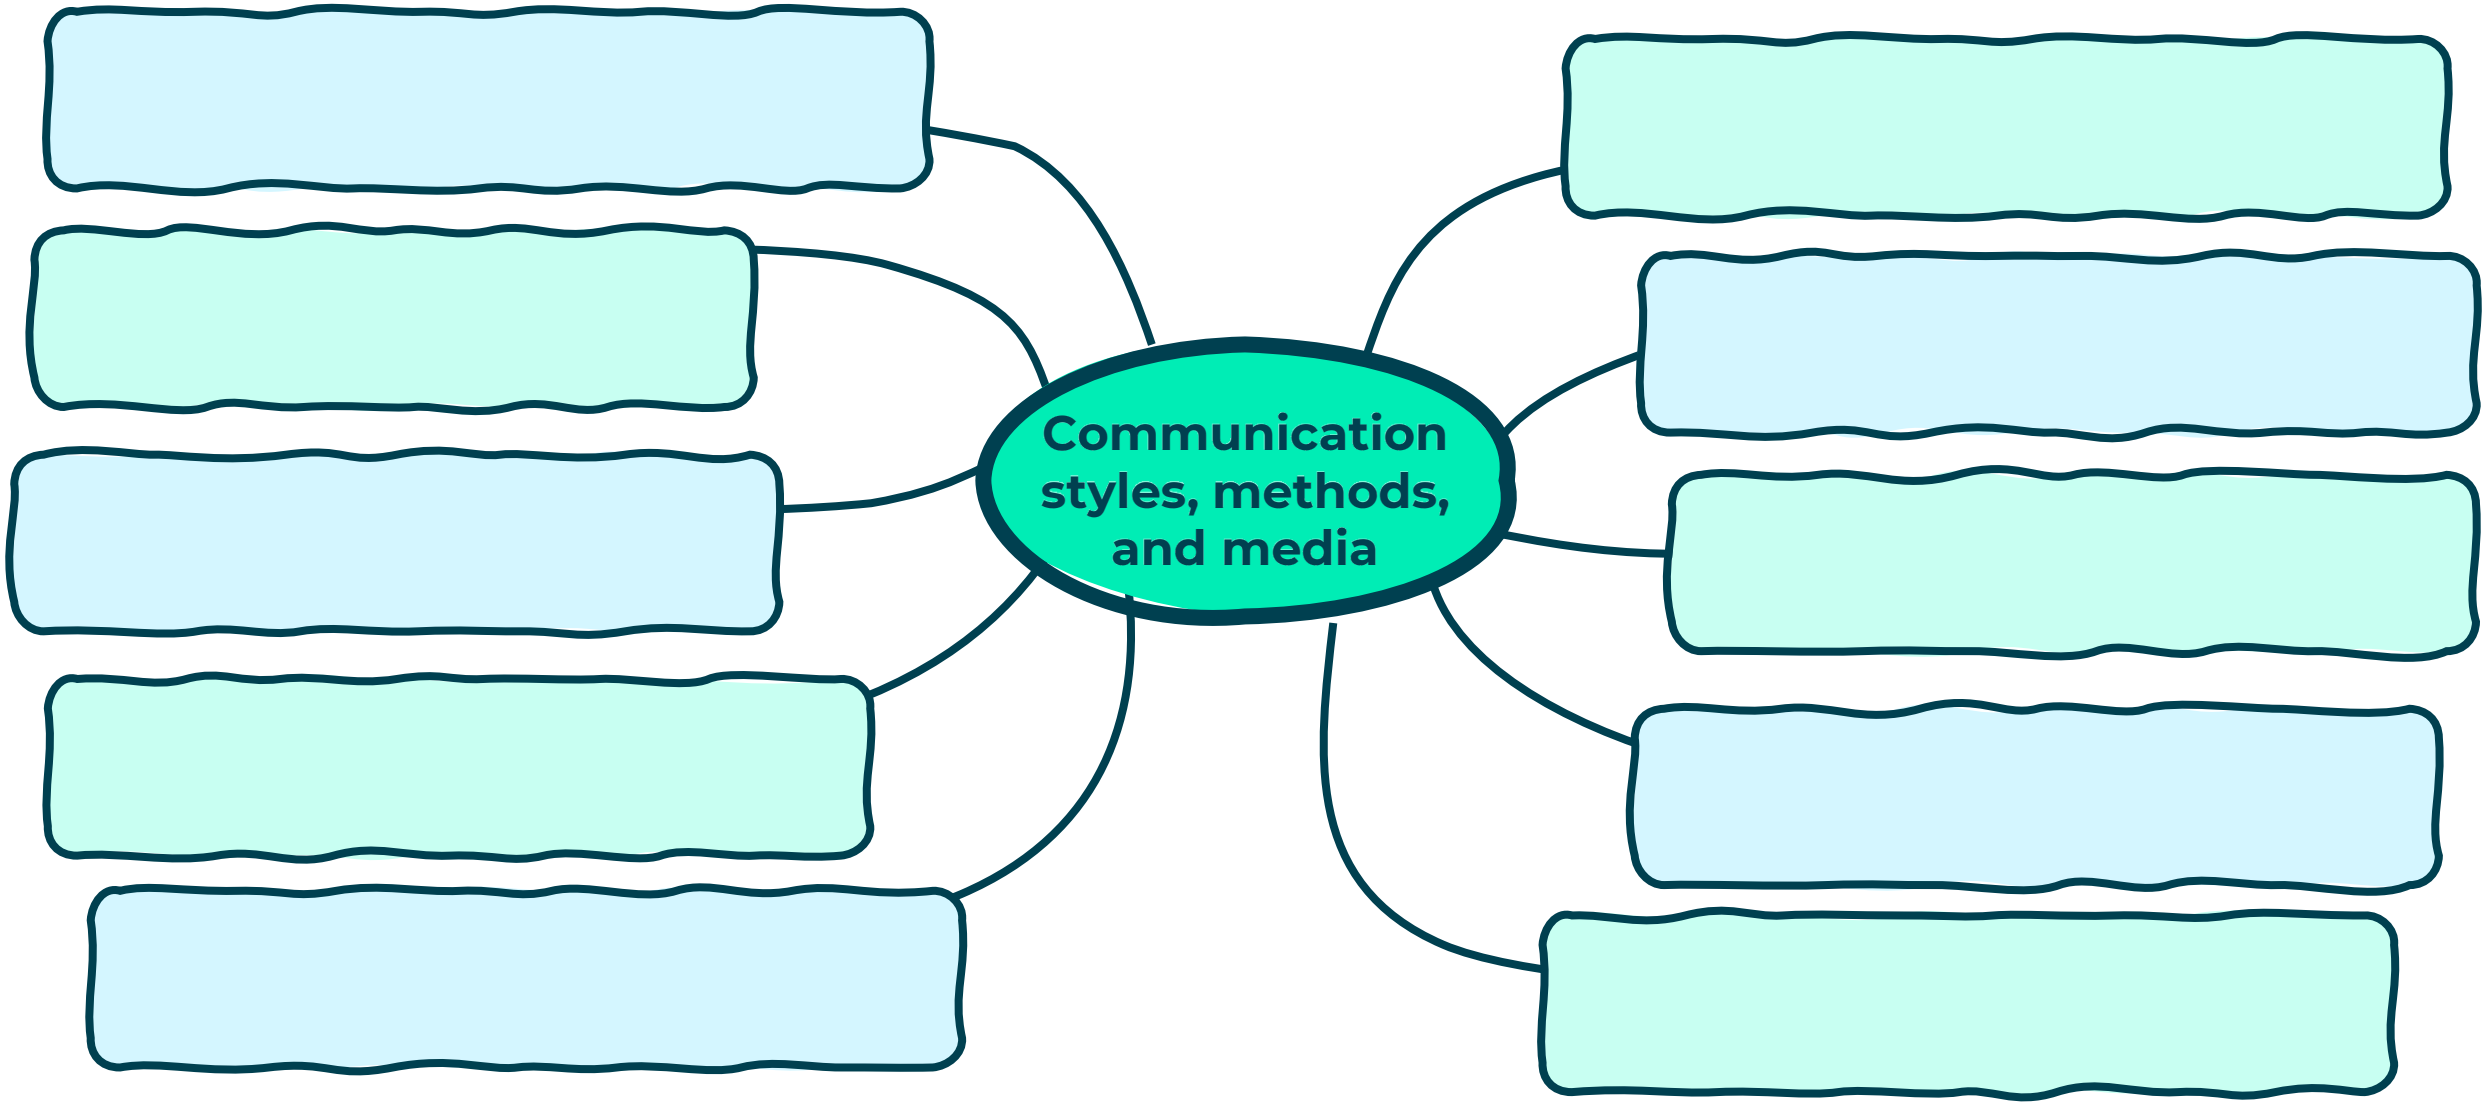
Effective Communication

Communication Styles, Methods, and Media



Effective Communication

Four business scenarios will be presented.

For each scenario, write a paragraph or two describing:

- The medium or media of communication you would choose.
  E.g., slides, meeting, documentation, email, ...
- Your communication strategy.
  E.g., first identify opportunity, then estimate benefits, then list resources required.
- Any best practices you would follow.
  E.g., elicit feedback to check that the audience is following.

The goal is to communicate the required information such that the audience will understand and remember it.

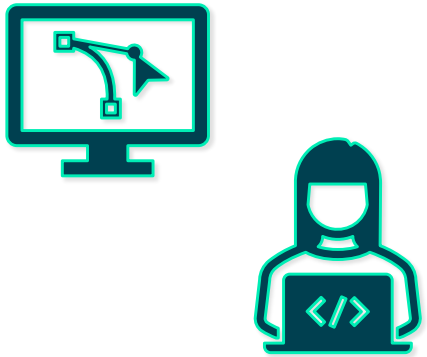
Scenario 1

A new data analyst joins your team. They need to learn how to use a particular app. The app is notoriously complex and tricky to learn. How do you teach them?



Scenario 2

Your statistical analysis of a dataset uncovers trends of significant business value. How do you convince your non-technical manager of the importance of your findings?

Scenario 1: App Training

Scenario 2: Manager

Scenario 3

You produce a weekly sales dashboard. How do you communicate the most important trends and KPIs to 1,000+ stakeholders?

Scenario 4

You have been granted 30 minutes to pitch your business proposal to a board of directors. Pick a proposal (anything will do) and explain your communication strategy.
